ROSENBERG'S FIGHT

Jacob Rosenberg, who was rearrested by the United States Marshal Tuesday afternoon on another charge of receiving stolen goods, managed to secure the $2000 additional bond demanded late in the night, giving as sureties E. H. Lewis and Maurice Rosenberg. Attorney Alex. Robertson, who is defending Rosenberg, was granted a motion yesterday by Judge Dole, that the other two indictments against his client, from the original batch of four, two of which have already been knocked out, be disposed of on Friday next. It is understood that the prosecution will not press these cases, owing to defects which have been declared to exist in them by his decision in the trial of the first case, but will have another batch of charges ready to present to the April grand jury.

SAY GLASS IS A DYING MAN

THE MILLIONAIRE CONVICT IN EFFECTIVELY MAKES SPECIAL PLEA FOR LIBERTY.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 3.—Louis Glass' application to be admitted to bail pending the hearing of his appeal from conviction for bribery, was denied by Judge Lawlor yesterday after an exhaustive hearing. Glass, who during the greater part of the proceedings had sat with closed eyes, his head resting wearily on his right hand made no sign of disappointment but it is known he had built strong hopes on the move of his attorneys to get him free.

While the testimony and affidavits left no doubt that Glass is a sick man, Judge Lawlor held that the existence of no extraordinary circumstances had been shown which would warrant him in granting bail. It was shown that Glass has better accommodation, better food and more freedom than ordinary inmates in the jail, he and Schmitz enjoying special favors granted no other prisoners.

In a short address to the court Attorney T. C. Coogan said he very much doubted that Glass would live till the end of March, when his appeal is to be heard.

The proceedings opened with the reading of the affidavits of Drs. Roland E. Hartley and John M. Williamson, retained by Coogan, to the effect that Glass was suffering from a very marked physical deterioration, and of Drs. Henry Harris and Joseph G. Morrissey retained by the district attorney, to the effect that Glass is suffering from an affection of the muscles of the heart.

Chief Jailor Edward J. Kirwan testified that Glass occupied a room 12 by 16 feet and feet high, in the administration building over the office. This portion of the jail premises is occupied by officers and Booder Schnitz is also confined there. Glass has no cellmate.

It was brought out that Glass does not eat regular prison fare, but gets the same food as the officials. Sometimes he gets food from outside. Kirwan said Glass had complained of headache, chills and stomach trouble since shortly after he became an inmate, and on about 10 days altogether had been unable to leave his room because of sickness.

Coogan then submitted a joint affidavit by Drs. J. Wilson Shields, A. C. O'Brien, T. W. B. Leland, William A. Martin, John M. Williamson and R. E. Hartley, stating that Glass gives indications of profound functional nervous derangement and is suffering from general weakness associated with heart weakness.

This affidavit affirms that Glass cannot receive proper treatment in his present environment.

Judge Lawlor, after hearing short addresses from Coogan and O'Garra, said there had been no showing that the continued incarceration of Glass would have the effect of appreciably shortening his life. It had not been shown that Glass had deteriorated from the condition in which he was on the day he was ordered into the custody of the sheriff.

"That there would be a loss of mental composure and of physical buoyancy in the case of a man of mature years confined in jail is but natural," added the judge, "but before I can exercise discretion in favor of the defendant extraordinary circumstances must be shown."

BUDGET DIFFERENCES.

TOKIO, Jan. 16.—The Cabinet crisis in the Japanese government is purely the result of differences concerning the budget.

Nakashoji, the Vice-Minister of Communication, has followed the example of his chief, handing in his resignation yesterday. He will be succeeded by Masuka.

It is thought that the several resignations among the Cabinet officers will force on a general election as soon as the Diet
